The Mental and Spiritual Gold Mine Manual!By John HindsDavid Neagle has written a compelling book about how we can tap into the unlimited resources that are within all of us. I first came across David's teachings in 2007 when he released The Art of Success audio program. That was during a time where I was experiencing lack, feelings of guilt, and turmoil in my mind. The bottom line was I wasn't ready to totally embrace those lessons and as a result I continued to experience instability. Any progress I made was erased by the wrong thoughts and feelings that were habitual for me when it came to finances and other areas in my life. One area that this also impacted was my dating life. I was dating one woman who really liked me but she decided that she wanted to be 'just friends'. The irony is that this particular woman I manifested into my life was the result of unknowingly using many of the principles David discusses in the book. I look back on it and laugh. Well, she could sense that there was some 'inner conflict' going on in my mind. It would manifest in some of the behaviors and things I would say to her. She actually did me a huge favor because it was a jolt I needed to work on myself and to clear my mind of all the junk I had accumulated over the years. Fast Forward to 2013. While I have cleared up quite a bit of guilt and turmoil, there are still some blind spots that I need to overcome when it comes to manifesting abundance. Reading David's book made me aware of the Default Belief system that I had acquired from previous generations when it comes to earning money. The Middle class mentality is prevalent in my family. David also provides some excellent advice on how to release limiting beliefs. He also discusses how hidden motivators can undermine our choices and keep us stuck in patterns of lack. David discusses a great example of how he gave two business people the same sales copy and marketing strategies. One businessman had great success with it and the other didn't although they both took action on it. The book also helped me become aware of the stories aka excuses I made to explain my results. Although this book is about more than just finances, it's important to note that the process to overcoming limiting beliefs is the same whether one is attempting to go from earning $50,000 to $100,000 or from $250,000 to $500,000 in annual income. David also brought up a great point about how most people believe that change must require extended periods of time to take place when in fact it's possible for it to happen in less time. Here's an excerpt from one of the chapters: "So, there is a lot of evidence that major change can take a long time. But the time it takes is not a function of the energies needed to affect change. It is a function of the energies needed to focus on and accept the change. The time delay is a product of resistance and competing imagery." That's a critical point, competing imagery. If we have an intention to create a result and at the same time hold a counter intention of not getting it in our minds, then that causes the time delay at best and at worst not having it manifest at all. We can see change sooner than we think if we can totally focus our energies on what we want despite current circumstances. In a nutshell the book is an excellent guide to help us Attune the Conscious and Subconscious mind to create the life we want for ourselves. David's also offers a link to a free audio on gratitude. In the audio, he references Raymond Holliwell's book Working with the Law in his discussion of how important it is to practice total forgiveness, which I also recommend you read and study. What I also appreciated about this book is that David opened up about some of his early life experiences which made the material more interesting to read. David's book is a must-have for your personal development library. It could be said that when you realize your relationship to the dynamic Universe, you are forever in a field where you can drill for oil and bring in a gusher every time! Happy Drilling, John Hinds

Like the weaver at a loom, David has been able to assist me in making sense of the purpose that has been gnawing within. I am truly, truly blessed to have stumbled across this treasure. Not only will I live this, but I will intentionally take responsibility for mentoring others through this process of unfettered abundance and purpose. Thank you David

By tinaThe author tells you what steps are necessary to achieve your purpose; but even more importantly, how to go about taking those steps. As questions pop into your head concerning something that he has said in the book, an answer or explanation immediately follows, and you are left with glee and joy to have discovered something that was inside of you all along; rather than being left with a lot of question marks dancing in your head.

In The Millions Within, David Neagle documents his journey from dockworker to multi-millionaire entrepreneur, including how one simple awareness shift tripled his income in year one, and how in year two he transformed his previous annual income into his monthly income. While David's journey began with some "unconscious competency" on his part, he studied to become aware of what forces were at work. The Millions Within serves as a guide to the laws of the Universe -- how things work, and how you and your beliefs and intentions function in that system to produce the results you see in your life. The laws of the Universe produce the life you are living now -- whether you like it or not. But from that point of awareness, David shows how you can employ conscious, intentional use of these rules to produce the results (financial and personal) that you dream of...NOW.

About the AuthorIn September of 1989, what was supposed to be a rare relaxing day with family cruising down the Illinois River in a roomy boat, quickly turned into a nightmare...David Neagle was pulled deep into the gates of a dam that shredded his flesh, broke his back, and nearly drowned him. No one expected him to survive the accident, and rescue workers even told his family he was already dead. (Entire boats had been sucked into this same dam, without survivors.) What happened instead is that David, a high-school dropout dock worker, awakened to the potential previously untapped within him. He made a decision that day to begin the journey responsible for changing his entire life, and now the lives of thousands of others. David Neagle, Master Success Wealth Consciousness Mentor, knows how to help you achieve whatever dream your heart desires ... no matter where you're starting from. After his brush with death, David began to study his own potential. In the 12 months following his accident-despite being unable to walk for more than a month-he tripled his income! By December of 2000, David had expanded to become an executive corporate manager, a stock investor, and a business owner! Over the years, David continually sought new mentors with each new level of success he attained. He began to study every great person in history ... but it wasn't until David began studying The Science of Getting Rich, by Wallace D. Wattles, that he fully understood the transformation he'd undergone. Wattles' book uncovered the exact change in David's thinking and in his attitude that had gotten the ball rolling; to create his unstoppable success. Today, David Neagle is the President of Life is Now, Inc., a multimillion dollar global coaching practice dedicated to teaching entrepreneurs, coaches, speakers, and service providers how to use the power of Universal Law to rapidly create quantum leaps in both business and personal arenas. Forever an avid student, David's core mission is to bring expanded awareness higher consciousness to as many people as possible, and to find greater ways of helping entrepreneurs to create massive cash injections more rapidly, so they can lead their greatest possible lives and serve the greatest number of people. One of the ways he's best known for doing so, is via live, in-person events. David also privately mentors his own private VIP clients to host their own transformational live events, designed to generate in excess of 7-figures in under 4 days, and simultaneously provide the opportunity for those in attendance to up- level, implement the latest proven business growth strategies step into community with other like- minded entrepreneurs!
